- · I streamlined the process for managing changes to referral campaign rewards by automating it with an R script. The script generates a visualization of reward changes, which we use to conduct a quick sanity check. It also produces the output required by the GIM platform, eliminating the need for manual data organization.
- Presented findings and retention analysis model to Central Ops team.
- · Addressed tickets related to referral campaign payouts and created documents to enable agents to resolve cases independently, reducing a day of work on this task from my routine.

I regularly contribute in data science through my github https://github .com/Gabrielforest. You can also see my Linkedin projects.
